Summary of development/review and consultation process

Ringa Hora Workforce Development Council has completed a review and development project (Te Manu Arataki | Leadership Project) which focussed on strengthening the suite of leadership credentials on the New Zealand Qualifications and Credentials Framework.

The project was initiated in October 2023. An environmental scan and engagement phase took place between November 2023 and May 2024.

Consultation and review and development of the qualifications occurred between July 2024 and January 2025 in a series of online, face-to-face, and email conversations and workshops. A working group of wide-ranging industry and provider representatives was established in July 2024. There was also a consultation group who received all communications of the review and provided feedback through email or face to face meetings and workshops. Ringa Hora ensured that Māori were engaged and consulted throughout the entire process. Ringa Hora also worked with the tangata whaikaha community, and Pacific reference groups as part of the consultation process.

The qualifications will be discontinued and replaced.
